CHANGES during the 1974-1975 school year altered the lives of 2643 students and 137 teachers at Evans. The new U.S.

president modified policies. Creation of the World Football League led to establishment of the Florida Blazers. The new Altamonte Mall made an assortment of stores available. These and other alterations presented us with a NEW DAY.

CHANGES were evident on the national scene as many political transformations took place. Richard Nixon resigned the presidency to Gerald Ford. President Ford's policy on amnesty allowed draftdodgers to re-enter the country. Rising unemployment rates affected even high school students with part-time jobs. National shortages increased inflation causing

CHANGES in Florida during 1974-1975 interested Evans students in statewide activities. Florida state elections involved students in active campaigning. Many eighteen year-old seniors registered and voted. As the Florida Blazers made Orlando their home, many Evans students supported them. Students were involved with conservation and worked for a NEW DAY.

CHANGES in the local scene affected Evans students. Interests were intrigued by visits to the Loch Haven Art Center and to the New Pine Hills Library. The EAST-WEST Expressway allowed quick transportation, while the Altamonte Mall offered all-day shopping. As students used new places, they found their lives enriched by opportunities of the NEW DAY.

CHANGES AT EVANS PERPLEX MANY

Congested hallway in 200 building between classes

Newly formed smoking area

CHANGES on campus were initiated in summer of 1974 when several new administrators were added. These included Mr. Sam

Singhaus, principal, and Mr. John Chantos, assistant principal. Two confusing modifications were reversal of numbering of rooms in 800 and 400 buildings and relocation of guidance offices to the main office. With school board approval, several smoking areas were established on campus; however, written permission from parents was required to smoke.

Making the school appearance more impressive was addition of a Trojan statue. Girls' sports expanded to include interscholastic activities as well as intramural sports. Each of these improvements contributed to Evans' NEW DAY.

CHANGES EMPHASIZE INDIVIDUALITY

Roger Ruhle

CHANGES in individual attitudes and ideals were affected by current happenings. Nixon's resignation and political scandals involving Florida state officials reduced faith in government officials. Many students decided to attend colleges formerly closed to members of their sexes. A mixture of confusion and enlightenment highlighted the NEW DAY.

STUDENT LIFE

The FIRST DAYS proved to be hectic ones at Maynard Evans. Orientation for Sophomores answered many questions for the class of '77. The sophomores weren't the only ones who experienced trouble in finding their classes due to the changing of the 400 and 800 buildings. New rules, home-room and schedule changes kept everyone in turmoil. Student Government started the year with the Howdy Dance. The pep rally proved school spirit high during these frantic days. In spite of its problems students remember first days as a challenging experience.

In an attempt to locate their new homerooms, Sophomores check posted lists.

During Howdy Dance, Jim Martin and D.J. Jay Preston discuss program.

As first notable event for sophomores, orientation is met with enthusiasm.

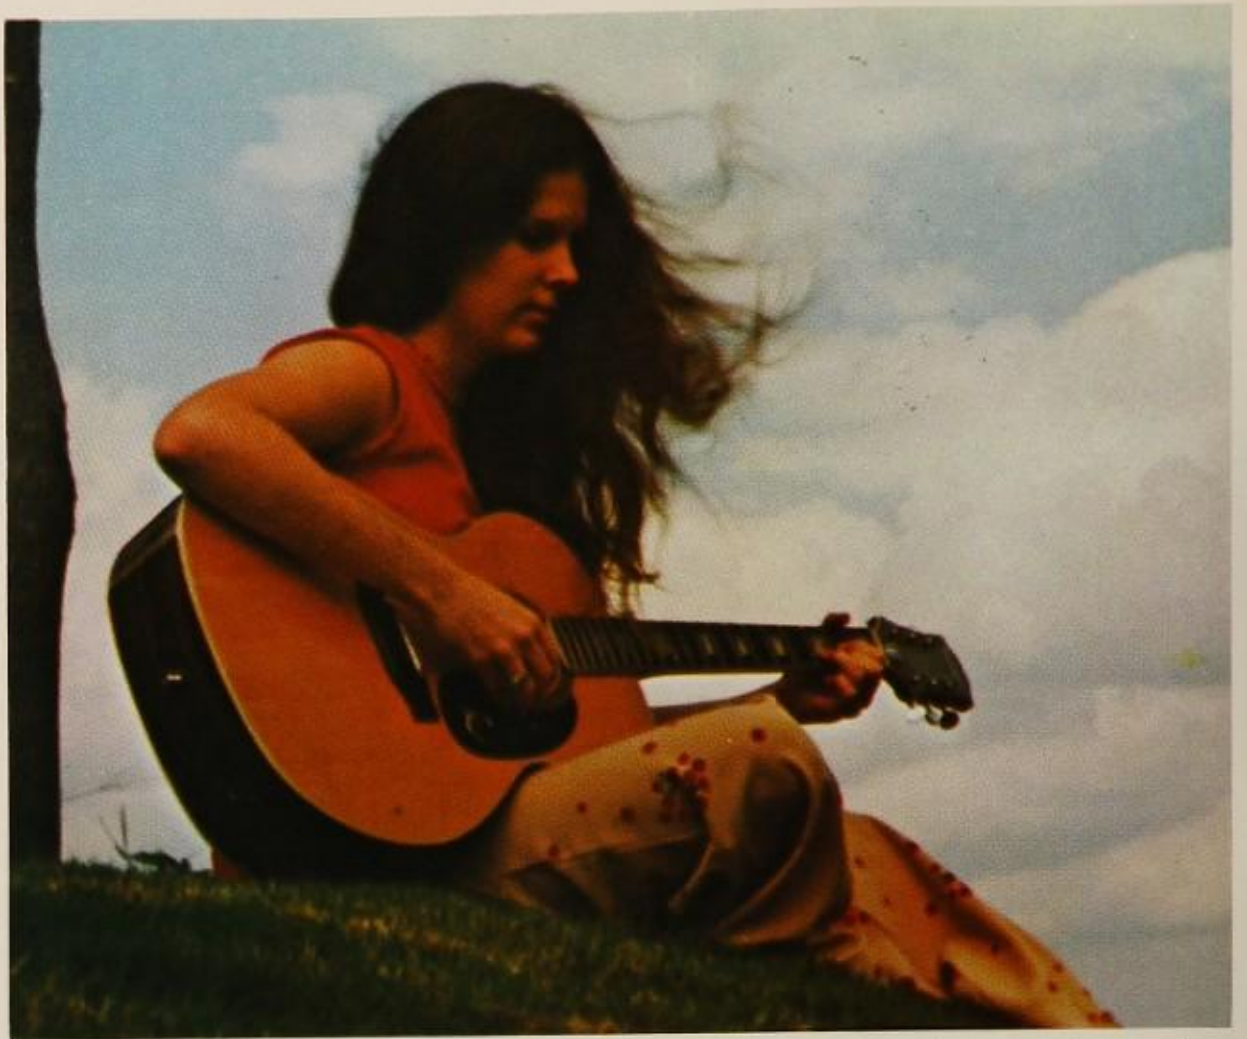

Devastated by schedule mistakes, Mrs. Spooone expresses sheer astonishment.

In 50's costume, cheerleaders display enthusiasm at pep rally to stimulate school spirit for Evans-Winter Park game.

Evans students found many activities to occupy themselves in their LEISURE time. The national pastime most people participated in was bicycle riding. Some found an old tire swing amusing while others preferred horseback riding. Different types of outdoor recreation consisted of swimming, golf and tennis for the more sports conscious. Weekend camping trips, hiking and fishing were enjoyed by others. For those who liked solitude there was reading, playing the guitar or strolling in the park with a special friend.

Gentle breezes accompany Cindy Newton as she pensively strums her guitar.

Relishing the experience of an old time tire swing, Claudia Pennington glides through the air as Charlie Matlock lends hand by pushing her.

Ready to begin their mid-afternoon ride are Cindy Dunagin and Tim Haberkamp.

Nanny,

I'm glad we got to know one another this year. I can't believe its over, in many ways I hate to see it end. I wish you happiness & success in the future. Stay as sweet & beautiful as you are.

Eyeing his schedule with disbelief Kelly Bruce discovers he has been assigned to a girls Physical Education class.

Large enrollment creates problems in limited locker areas between classes.

Throwing Pete Matsko from senior line are Fred Christensen and George Hayes.

Keeping a smile became rough for students who encountered typical HASSLES. Changing faulty schedules was difficult. Frustrating situations included the lockers and limited parking space. Using the shorter senior lunch line caused problems for some juniors and sophomores. For many, there was the age-old problem of too much to do and too little time.

Arguing over possession of senior parking space are Jim Lusink and Don Guldi.

Struggling with a stack of books is a common problem for Pete Belli.

At halftime during the 1975 HOMECOMING game, Jean Arnold was crowned Helen of Troy. Her court consisted of seniors: Teresa Browning, Candy Critchfield, and Jannet Newcomb; juniors: Laura Darrow, Jackie Laws, and Deb McNight; and sophomores: Jean Muscarella, Vickie Powell, and Debbie Massengale. After the game, the theme "Spirit of Years Gone By" was carried out in the dance in C Building with music provided by "Short Cut."

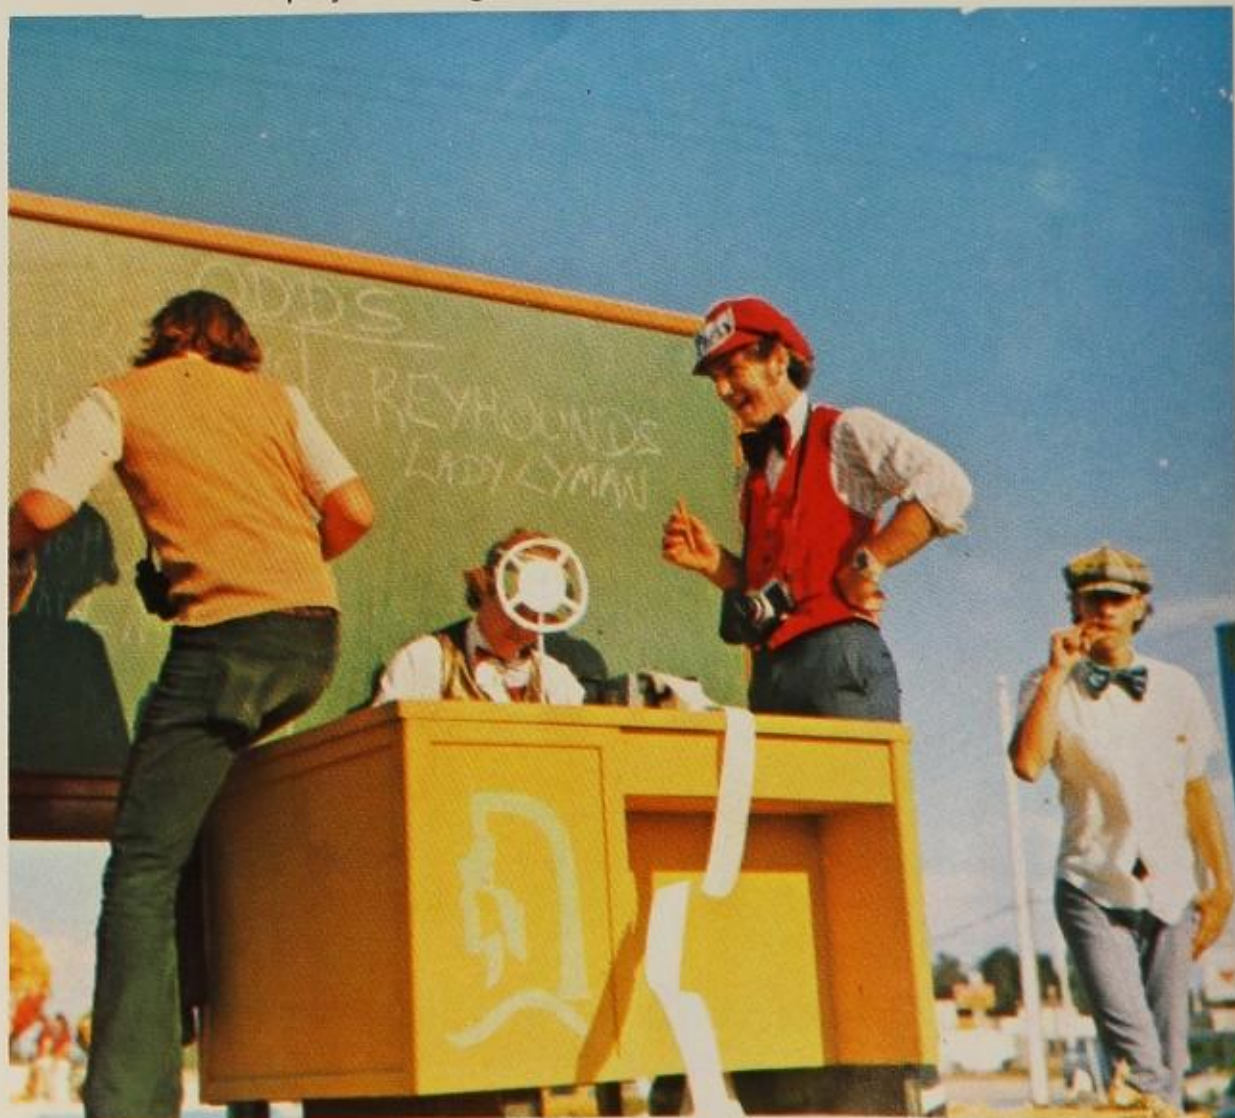

Congratulating Jean Arnold, the new Helen of Troy, is Mr. Sam Singhaus.

Powerful Trojans defense holds the Lyman Greyhounds scoreless, for the first Evans' Homecoming victory in many years.

Led by cheerleaders at bonfire pep rally, Evans' students display their Trojan spirit as they cheer team before game.

Based on the theme "Spirit of Years Gone By," the HOME-COMING parade took place the day before the game. Latin Club took first place in floats, with Galatea taking second and Akamai third. All but the top three floats were then burned in the bonfire that evening. The game against Lyman was a complete victory for Evans with a score of 24-0.

Awaiting parade is Bicentennial entry.

Riding in parade are senior attendants Jean Arnold and Candy Critchfield.

During Homecoming parade Jannet Newcomb and Teresa Browning smile at crowd.

Trojans' fans stream across the field to congratulate the team as the scoreboard displays verdict of Homecoming game.

Performing in Homecoming parade is majorette co-captain, Gail Ridosh.

With Don Quixote for their theme, Akamai Tri-Hi-Y placed third among entries.

Tediously struggling to glue minute pieces of model airplane, Todd Shaw searches for finishing piece of miniature.

Reaffirming friendship with pet collie, Hap Hopkins shakes hands with Baron.

Gardening proves to be productive hobby for cultivator Eddie Jordan.

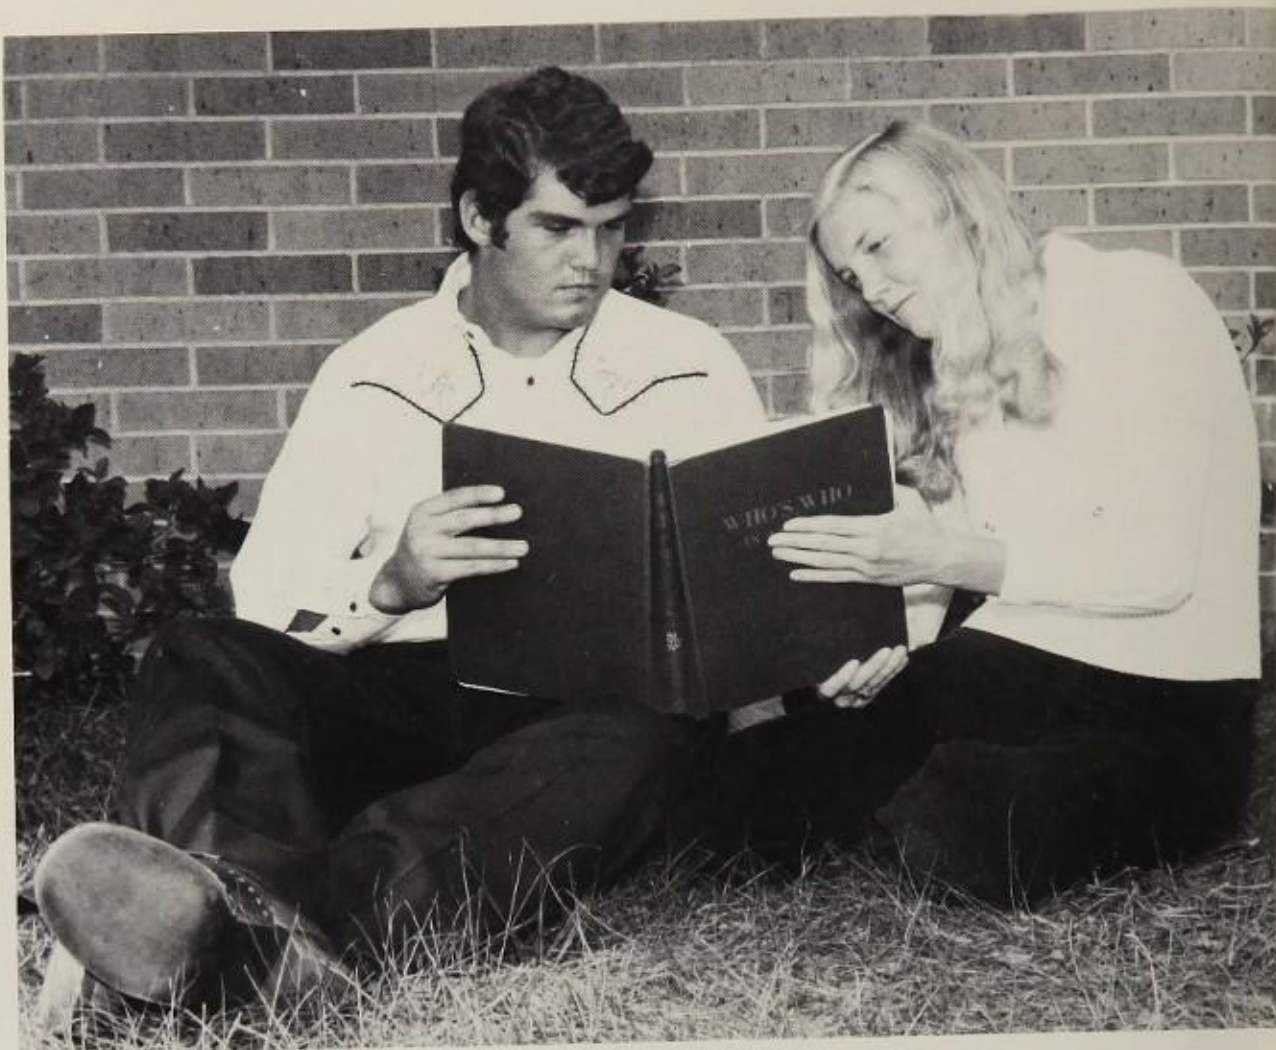

Clothing construction gives Dianne Short chance to utilize creative talents.

To occupy their spare time, Evans' students participated in many varied HOBBIES. Animal lovers spent their hours training their pets. Musically talented students practiced guitars, pianos and other instruments. A back-to-nature trend initiated an interest in gardening. Constructing models became a popular pastime. These hobbies had a major role in the lives of students.

Absorbed in her work, Jannet Newcomb sketches in the beauty of outdoor park.

At Maynard Evans High School several students received recognition for achievements above the ordinary in academics, art and sports. Greg Davidson and Nancy Neinhaus were honored by being included in the 1975 edition of Who's Who in American High Schools. The National Merit Scholarship Finalists were Bonnie Leighty, Eddie Anderson and Karen Shipley. These PEOPLE and others led the Trojans.

Finalists in the spring Sweetheart Contest anxiously await decision of judges.

New Senior Miss, Denise Sarver is congratulated by Mr. Steve Shay.

At Evans-Sanford game halftime SENIOR MISS finalists were presented. Local businessmen and women judged each finalist on personality, poise and service to school. First runner-up was Teresa Browning and the winner was Denise Sarver. On February 14 the annual SWEETHEART CONTEST, sponsored by Evans cheerleaders, was presented in the gym. Contestants were judged on poise, beauty and personality by community members of various professions. Donna Steele was crowned 1975 Sweetheart.

A strong team effort gave Evans' mighty Trojans a better showing than the 4-6 VARSITY FOOTBALL record would indicate. Opening up the season, Evans suffered defeats at the hands of traditional powerhouses Winter Park and Oak Ridge. Undaunted, Evans won over Jones and Titusville in two straight matches. Troubled by losses to Tampa Catholic and Boone, Trojans bounced back again to take two straight, blanking Lyman in Evans' Homecoming contest and upsetting Bishop Moore. Plagued by injury of Mike Dorsey, Evans lost to a strong Edgewater team by one point in a Tangerine Bowl thriller. Closing out the season, Colonial set Evans back in an exciting game at Grenadier field.

Aided by a competent staff of seven coaches, Head Coach Gary Preisser was able to work on strategic parts of the team's game. The two Junior Quarterbacks, Mike Cullison and Doug Daniels were aided by Coach Preisser. Jim Stanley, Julius Gordon and Don Havas coordinated the defense, while Bob Frazier and Tim Batchelor worked with the offensive unit. With the joint effort of the coaches, the Trojans were able to celebrate their first victories in two years.

Giving his all to catch the ball running-back Alvin Smith makes a giant leap.

The JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL Team improved on fundamentals, blocking and tackling, thereby fulfilling the function of the J.V. team. Defense was the strong point as J.V.'s intercepted eleven passes in eight games. Unfortunately the offensive game was hurt by injuries as well as the small size of the team. In spite of a 3-5 final record, the J.V. team had a good season, as each player improved on football skills.

For the second consecutive year the VARSITY CHEER-LEADERS attended NCA clinic. They came home with ribbons, the Spirit Stick and for the first time the Spark Plug Award, which is voted on by all the girls and presented to the friendliest squad. With the help of Mrs. Beverly Noble, the new cheerleading sponsor, the cheerleaders promoted school spirit by: going through the halls with the Pep Band, giving weekly surprises to the players, and sponsoring spirit weeks. The cheerleaders also raised money by selling spray-n-wipe, stationery, key chains and by sponsoring the annual Sweet-heart Contest. The money was used for trips to basketball tournaments, new uniforms and attendance at summer clinic.

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEER-LEADERS gave the J.V. teams some of the best morale boosting support ever. Effective cheerleading techniques were achieved through everyday practice after school hours, and a first time attendance at cheerleading camp. Included in the gimmicks to raise money were the sale of stationery and spray-n-wipe and the promotion of two car washes. The money raised in those efforts was contributed to the future J.V.'s. Junior Varsity Cheerleaders were a cheerful compliment to the many pep assemblies.

Booklets and letters of spirit were presented to members of the Track Team by the TRACKETTS. This track spirit squad also decorated lunch tables and provided refreshments for track runners on the days of meets. Tracketts inspired team members to run their fastest possible time by pacing runners. The girls would blow a whistle at regular intervals to give runners an indication of their progress. During track meets, Tracketts kept statistics and provided track members with refreshments after each of the races.

Supporting and boosting the Soccer Team's morale was the purpose of "SOCCERETTS." Game day, the Soccer Team's lunch table was decorated, a cake was served, and each member of the team received a spirit card. The Socceretts did their part at the games by selling programs and keeping game statistics. They refreshed hot, tired players with Gatorade and towels. The Socceretts bought their own uniforms with money they raised in a bake sale held in front of the gym.

The responsibility of keeping the time clock was a duty of the WRESTLERETTS. After each match the girls awarded an orange to the winner as a token of success and as a quick energy pick-up. The squad served cakes and cookies to the Wrestling Team, at a specially decorated table, during lunch preceeding a meet. As a money raising project, Wrestleretts held two successful car washes, with the money being used for new green uniforms.

Proving to fans and other metro teams that Evans is still the capable team they were in the past came easy in 74-75. Beginning BASKETBALL season Evans defeated traditional powerhouse Martin County in a 66-38 victory. Evans then went on to win ten straight games including the Sentinel Christmas Tournament by beating teams as far away as Key West and Palm Beach. Losing to Clearwater was to be Evans' downfall in the Roy King Holiday Classic held in Saint Petersburg where a third place finish was realized. Recovering from the tourney setback, Evans demonstrated their skill and backed up their number two in state standings, led only by Clearwater, by winning over five games in succession. Defeat at the hands of Oak Ridge was a minor setback though Evans still retained their number two state ranking. The Trojan team concluded with a season of twenty-six triumphs and two losses.

The breaking of ten school records by Doctor D. and three by Eddie Kuhl was influential in Evans' winning the 1974-75 Metro Conference Championship. Both these team members were honored by being named as Sentinel Star Players of the Week. Evans twenty-first game of the season was played against Colonial and proved to be its 200th victory. On March 1 the Trojan cagers won the Regional Championship by defeating the team from Pompano Beach. The following week, Evans traveled to Jacksonville for the state tournament. On March 7, the Trojans defeated Miami Jackson 63-53 in the semi-finals. This victory led to the final play-off on March 8. At the Jacksonville Coliseum, Evans Trojans smashed Tampa Robinson 67-45 and captured the coveted title of 1974-1975 STATE CHAMPIONS.

Chico also grabbed the most rebounds, a total of 202 or an average of 9.2 per game. Frank Basile was accredited with forty-four assists. Stealing forty-two balls from competition was Roger Ruhle. Under direction of Coach James Gosnell, 1975 Evans High School BASEBALL TEAM prepared for the new season, which began in February, with daily practice sixth period and after school. In order to achieve a new look this year, the team ordered athletic shirts and jackets.

The TENNIS team, coached by Miss Joy Wilder and Mr. Tim Batchelor, consisted of thirteen members, six of which were girls. Nine members of the team had previous experience on the Trojan courts including returning Seniors, Suzanne Purifoy, Brenda Beavers, Mark Guise. In addition to playing at Evans, many home matches were staged at such places as Rosemont. Court matches saw Evans well represented by a fine Tennis team.

In their second season, Evans WRESTLING TEAM, coached by Mr. Ernie Chadnler with Mr. Chuck Frazier, had a very successful season. Two school records were set, one when Glenn Birch broke the fastest pin record in only ten seconds, and the other was set when the team established twenty-one wins for the season. Finishing with the most overall points earned during the dual meets Dexter Oliver tallied up sixty-two points for himself and John Coocen gained sixty points. At Christmas, the Evans' matmen won the Trojan Invitational. The team finished third in the district and second in the Metro Conference. At the district meet in February, Dexter Oliver and David Wells placed second for their weight divisions and John Coocen, Glenn Birch and Frank Johnason rated third place. The team was led by captains Bill Wilson, Mickey Dewberry, Dexter Oliver and David Wells.

Providing interested students an opportunity for sports competition, INTRAMURALS attracted many participants. Such group activities as handball, basketball and paddleball were offered. For those who prefer individual sports, track and field events and gymnastic activities were provided. These after school sporting events were sponsored by Miss Carol Everett. Because the coach was girls Physical Education teacher, Intramurals drew mostly from girls P.E. classes.

For relaxation, Miss Wilder and Miss Everett play a fast game of paddleball.

While taking part in one of the many track and field events, Melody Simmons shows how to successfully clear high jump.

During an after school ping pong match, Kim Bass serves ball to her opponent Cathy Eustace in attempt to score point.

Early morning practices became a way of life for members of Evans SWIM TEAM. With only eleven returning lettermen on the boys team and three experienced swimmers on the girls team, the mostly sophomore squad had to work hard to become a top swim team. Leading the team were co-captains Bob Fawcett and Ken Parks, while both teams were coached by Mr. Art Carlson with his assistant Mr. Don Clark. After months of training their first swim meet was held in the second week of February against Edgewater and Lyman.

Gulping for air, Paul Borden skillfully executes difficult breaststroke.

Holding paddle boards, Carolyn Reitz and Rhonda Howard kick during practice.

Front Row: John Dykeman, Al Del Guercio, Paul Kremp, Duane Hunter, Mike Bunn, Earl White, Rich Gilrane, Joe Avery, Mike Dorsey, J. Along with cooperation of the captains of the TRACK TEAM, Coaches Richard Skelton and Don Havas began early in the year to prepare for the season. Mandatory practice sessions were held during sixth period and after school. In preparation for future meets there was an intra-class meet held between sophomores, juniors and seniors at Evans. The first official meet was held at Evans against Bishop Moore. Trojan Relays took place on Friday, March 21.

Working hard, Senior Mike Barnes develops speed for sprinting.

High jumper, Paul Kremp perfects coordination and height on his Salsberry Flop.

Shaping up for important track meet, Mike Dorsey works on the high hurdles.

While working with shot put, Larry Stark strives for distance.

Under the supervision of Coach Carol Everette, a GIRLS' TRACK TEAM was organized for the first time in the history of Evans. The team competed primarily with girls from Seminole County schools, as 1975 was the first year that girls' track teams were formed all over the state. Coach Everette anticipated a winning season, the mile run being the team's strongest event. Vicki Sparks, a mile-runner, was among the top ten girls in the entire state.

Kim Ramsey perfects her style during practice in two hundred twenty hurdles.

Varsity and Junior Varsity teams warm up before 1974 Metro Conference Meet.

Metro Conference begins with varsity team competing against other schools.

Under the direction of Coach Richard Skelton, the Varsity CROSS-COUNTRY team ended the season with fourteen wins and one loss. They also gained Metro Conference Championship and were ranked fourteenth in the state. Co-captains of the team Mike Bunn and Jimmy Cole won several awards and brought many honors to Evans' track team. Also having a good season, the Junior Varsity team had a season of twelve wins and two losses.

Mike Bunn followed by sophomore Doug Lanier races to victory.

Though hampered with the loss of six starting players, the Varsity SOCCER team compiled a record that consisted of five wins, two losses and one tie. Senior Greg Kynast scored a record number of goals. Under the guidance of Coach Ernie Chandler, the squad broke the previous records for most wins in a season and most goals scored in a season. The outstanding performance of the squad led to capturing of Metro Conference Championship.

Kicking soccer ball to teammate, Lex Bressler practices his passing.

Using speed and power, Mark Norman tries to by-pass opponent for goal.

Encouraging one another before big game are Irby Lyle and Alan Howard.

Seniors: This message is directed to you, the group of youthful Americans in whose future this great country of ours lies.

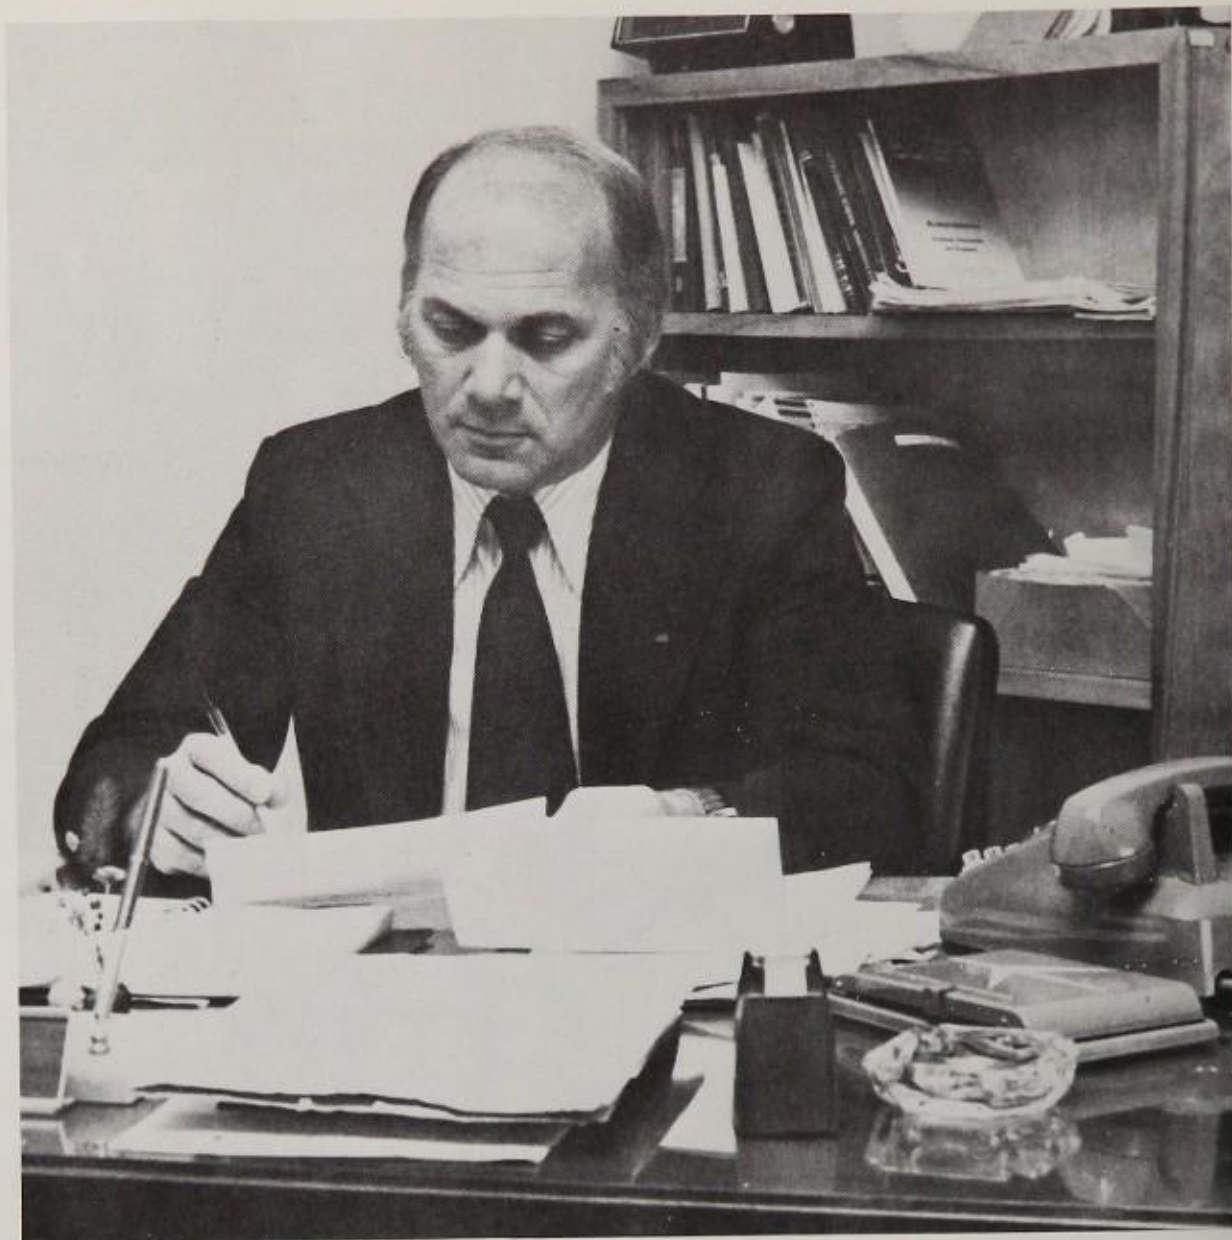

Through your years at Evans, many changes have occurred and you have survived to become graduates from our fine high school.

The spirit and traditions here at Evans, along with our fine faculty and staff, have provided you with positive attitudes and cognitive abilities necessary to meet the challenges of today's society.

One of my great satisfactions of life is the privilege of serving as your principal. My sincere congratulations to all of you. May the future bring you success and happiness.

M. Singhaus

Kathy,

It has been a great year! I am glad we had the opportunity to become friends. Contemporary Lit was fun. You are a sweet girl and will go far. Good Luck in the future.

Class of '75 #1

In conference with Principal, Mr. Singhaus, are Asst. Principals Mr. Galloway, Miss Senter, Mr. Brushwood and Mr. Chantos.

Heading up the nearly all-new ADMINISTRATION was Mr. Myron Singhaus, Evans' new principal. Other new administrators included Mr. John Chantos, a new assistant principal. Organization of the administration was also altered. Each administrator was assigned an area of general supervision: Mr. Harold Galloway handled business dealing with sophomores, Mr. John Chantos was in charge of juniors, Mr. Myron Singhaus directed senior affairs and Mr. Dale Brushwood regulated master scheduling and clerical concerns. Miss Wana Senter, formerly chairman of Evans' English Department, became the new Assistant Principal of Instruction. Her new job included management of curriculum changes and supervision of teachers and interns.

Reviewing Evans' policies with Student Teachers from F.S.U., Miss Marcia Kirkland and Miss Kellie Richards, Miss Wana Senter outlines school procedures.

PTSA President Mrs. Singleton and Mrs. Cheros, Secretary, discuss garage sale.

Monday, October 21, the Maynard Evans High School PARENT TEACHER STUDENT ASSOCIATION held an Open House. All Evans students and parents were welcome. At the second meeting, held on November 11, Dr. Linton Deck, Superintendent of Orange County Schools, was guest speaker. The PTSA members gave a coffee for Evans teachers and faculty members. At the April 21 meeting, the Evans High Stage Band performed. As its first money-making project of the year, PTSA sponsored a booth at the Pine Hills Bazaar. "Little Brown Jug" was the theme of this booth, which won first prize for its decoration. Flowers were sold on Valentine's Day as another major project. In spring, PTSA held a garage sale to earn money to air-condition Evans' cafeteria.

At Executive Board meeting, PTSA officers consider plans for Pine Hills Bazaar booth and Open House at October meeting.

Issuing admits and passes was one of the many responsibilities OFFICE PERSONNEL undertook, as well as typical phone answering and filing that make up a usual business day at Maynard Evans. Major changes, such as a trophy case-office divider, improved general office appearance and made their clerical and secretarial duties more efficient to better aid administrators and teachers alike. Many of the office traffic problems were alleviated by shifting the sophomore and junior admit stations to new administrative offices in the 100 and 800 building.

Trying to hear over office noise, Mrs. Shirley Bravar looks for information.

During the summer months, the GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT made several changes along with the rest of the school. They moved from the 100 building to a more convenient location behind the Administration Office.*During the first weeks of school guidance counselors spent several hours working on student schedules. Mr. Banfield, a former A.V.C. teacher, assumed the position of Junior counselor. A new member of the staff is Debbie Douglas, Guidance Clerk.

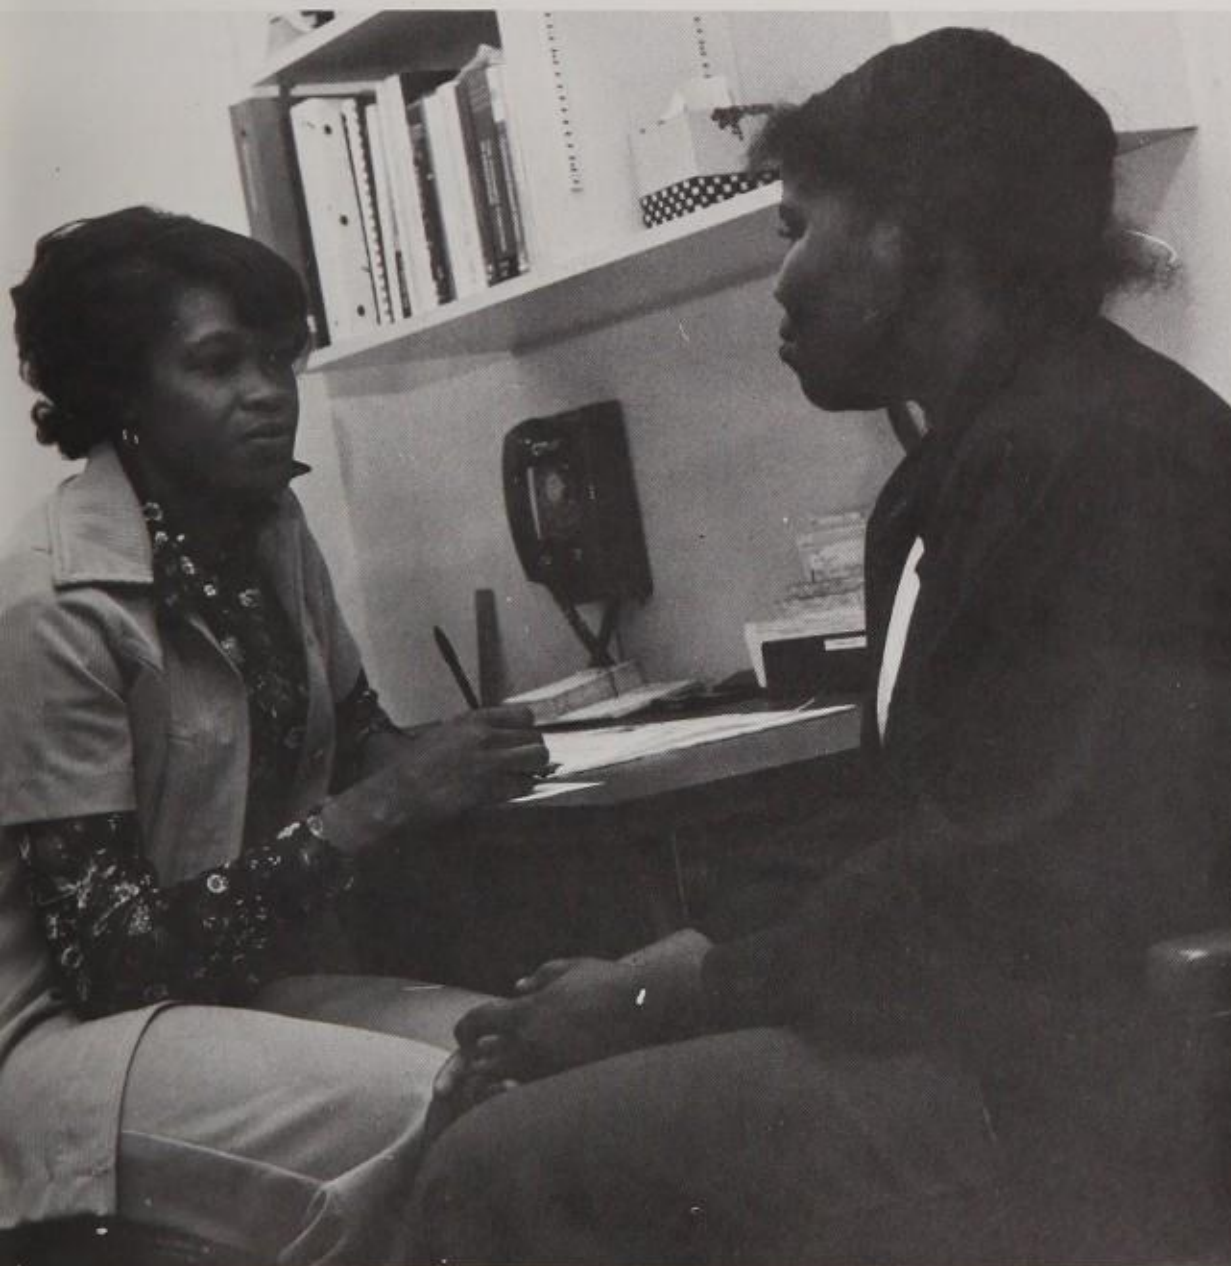

Advising Debbie Edwards on possible course selections is Mr. Eston McFadden.

Discussing jobs with Junior, Douglas Merkle, occupational specialist, Jackie Moore, recommends new career opportunities.

Often unseen and unheard the SUPPORTING STAFF was instrumental in the smooth running of the school lunchroom. Personnel prepared nutritional lunches for the mass of students during the three lunch shifts, and managed to keep a cheerful atmosphere within the cafeteria. The custodial staff did various things to improve the campus. Along with cleaning the class rooms and grounds the repairing of small types of machinery such as typewriters and lights.

With the addition of numerous reference sources, the school LIBRARY increased its stock to over 28,000 volumes. Several sets of new encyclopedias aided students in preparing class research papers. In the Magazine Room, back issues of many popular magazines could be viewed on the microfilm projection machines. One new policy of the library, having students remain entire class periods, was to prevent misuse of the library privilege. Record albums from the Audio-Visual Department added to the library's range of services for the student.

As a new activity at Evans High the FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT staged an International Day. The purpose of the day-long affair was to have an exchange of customs, songs and foods of foreign country language students. The language laboratory offered students another chance to enhance class-work as they were able to advance at their own rate in Lab. work. Language classes worked together to gain a new trophy case for the department to display awards won by students.

First among many activities of the SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT was a field trip to Saint Augustine for several American History classes. There, students were able to explore the first permanent settlement in the entire United States and to get an understanding of the people of the sixteenth century. Later in the year, the American History classes studied problems of the present as well as those of the past. Those who took psychology during the first semester were able to see a presentation given by Mr. Joe McCawley, a professional hypnotist. In AVC students studied the fundamentals of Communistic and Democratic governments as well as remaining informed about world happenings. The study of cultures of ancient civilizations was the main concern of World History classes.

Among the many changes in Evans' SCIENCE DEPARTMENT during the 1974-75 school year was the addition of Science Technology to its normal curriculum. This two-period class encompassed both the mechanical and electrical aspects of science. The Physics classes conducted several experiments dealing with the orbiting of planets and the motion of air and water. For several months, students conducted sky watches and charted the orbits of the moon and Mars. They also performed a series of experiments using a frictionless air table and ripple tanks to research the properties of physical motion.

Many different types of courses ranging from Biology to Physics were offered in the SCIENCE DEPARTMENT. Students taking Biology studied the role of plant and animal species in various biological communities. They were also given the opportunity to perform laboratory work ranging from dissections to breeding rabbits and mice. Meanwhile, Physiology classes concentrated their studies on the anatomical structure of man as well as that of lower animals. First year chemistry students learned to balance chemical equations and investigated properties of various regents, whereas members of the Chemistry II classes devoted much of their time to intensive studies of equilibrium systems. Completion of these courses provided students with a better background to enter college.

The most advanced subject offered by the Evans High MATH DEPARTMENT in the 1974-75 school year was Math V, an independent study course in beginning calculus. Other college prep courses included Trigonometry and Analytic Geometry. Pocket calculators and slide rules were used to help students in these areas of study. Geometry students used basic theorems and postulates to aid them in string art projects. Algebra I and II classes studied simple trigonometrical theorems and conic sections. Business Math students gained experience in keeping accounts and office records.

Geometrical shapes are depicted in a string art project made by Diane Patrick.

As the largest academic section in the school, the ENGLISH DEPARTMENT included many areas of study. Some of the courses offered were American Literature, Composition, Bible Literature and Honors English. This year's American Literature classes read such novels as The Great Gatsby and The Crucible. Composition classes completed various research projects and creative writings. Parables from the Bible were the main subject of study in Bible Literature. Students also created projects depicting famous Bible stories. Honors English analyzed modern and classical writings.

Many interested students took advantage of the three publications classes in the ENGLISH DEPARTMENT. Creative Publications, the newest of these, was especially popular and its staff prepared and printed Pieces of the Mind, Vol. III and IV. The newspaper staff replaced the former masthead with a more modern one created by David Gataletto. Students on the Chariot Staff worked to produce the annual. A study of ancient gods and goddesses was the focal point in Mythology. Drama students gained experience in acting through classroom plays. Expanding the reading and speaking word stock was the primary objective of Vocabulary. The Department continued to grow as student demands for English increased.

The ART DEPARTMENT offered students opportunities to learn to express themselves through painting or drawing. Student work was exhibited at various times and places during the year. Both beginning and more advanced drawings and paintings were displayed at the county office in the fall. Oil paintings were entered in a national PTA contest and exhibited at Loch Haven Art Center. Second semester a new course in arts and crafts was offered cooperatively by the Art and Home Economics departments. At Christmas several students made paintings for presents. Art students and teachers also did practical projects for the school such as painting signs for parking lots and halls. Art rooms were kept colorful with displays of student work.

Working with line and space sculpture are Rosellen Becker and George Torres.

Proudly displaying his picture dealing with symbols of America is Rick Chance.

In addition to regular classes, the PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT offered a gymnastics class in which both boys and girls are given an opportunity to work on the balance beam, trampoline, uneven parallel bars, and horse. Activities in other classes included a variety of both indoor and outdoor sports so that the student could acquire a better understanding and skill of them. In November, the Academy of Olympic Karate gave a demonstration to all of the P.E. classes on the fundamentals of karate.

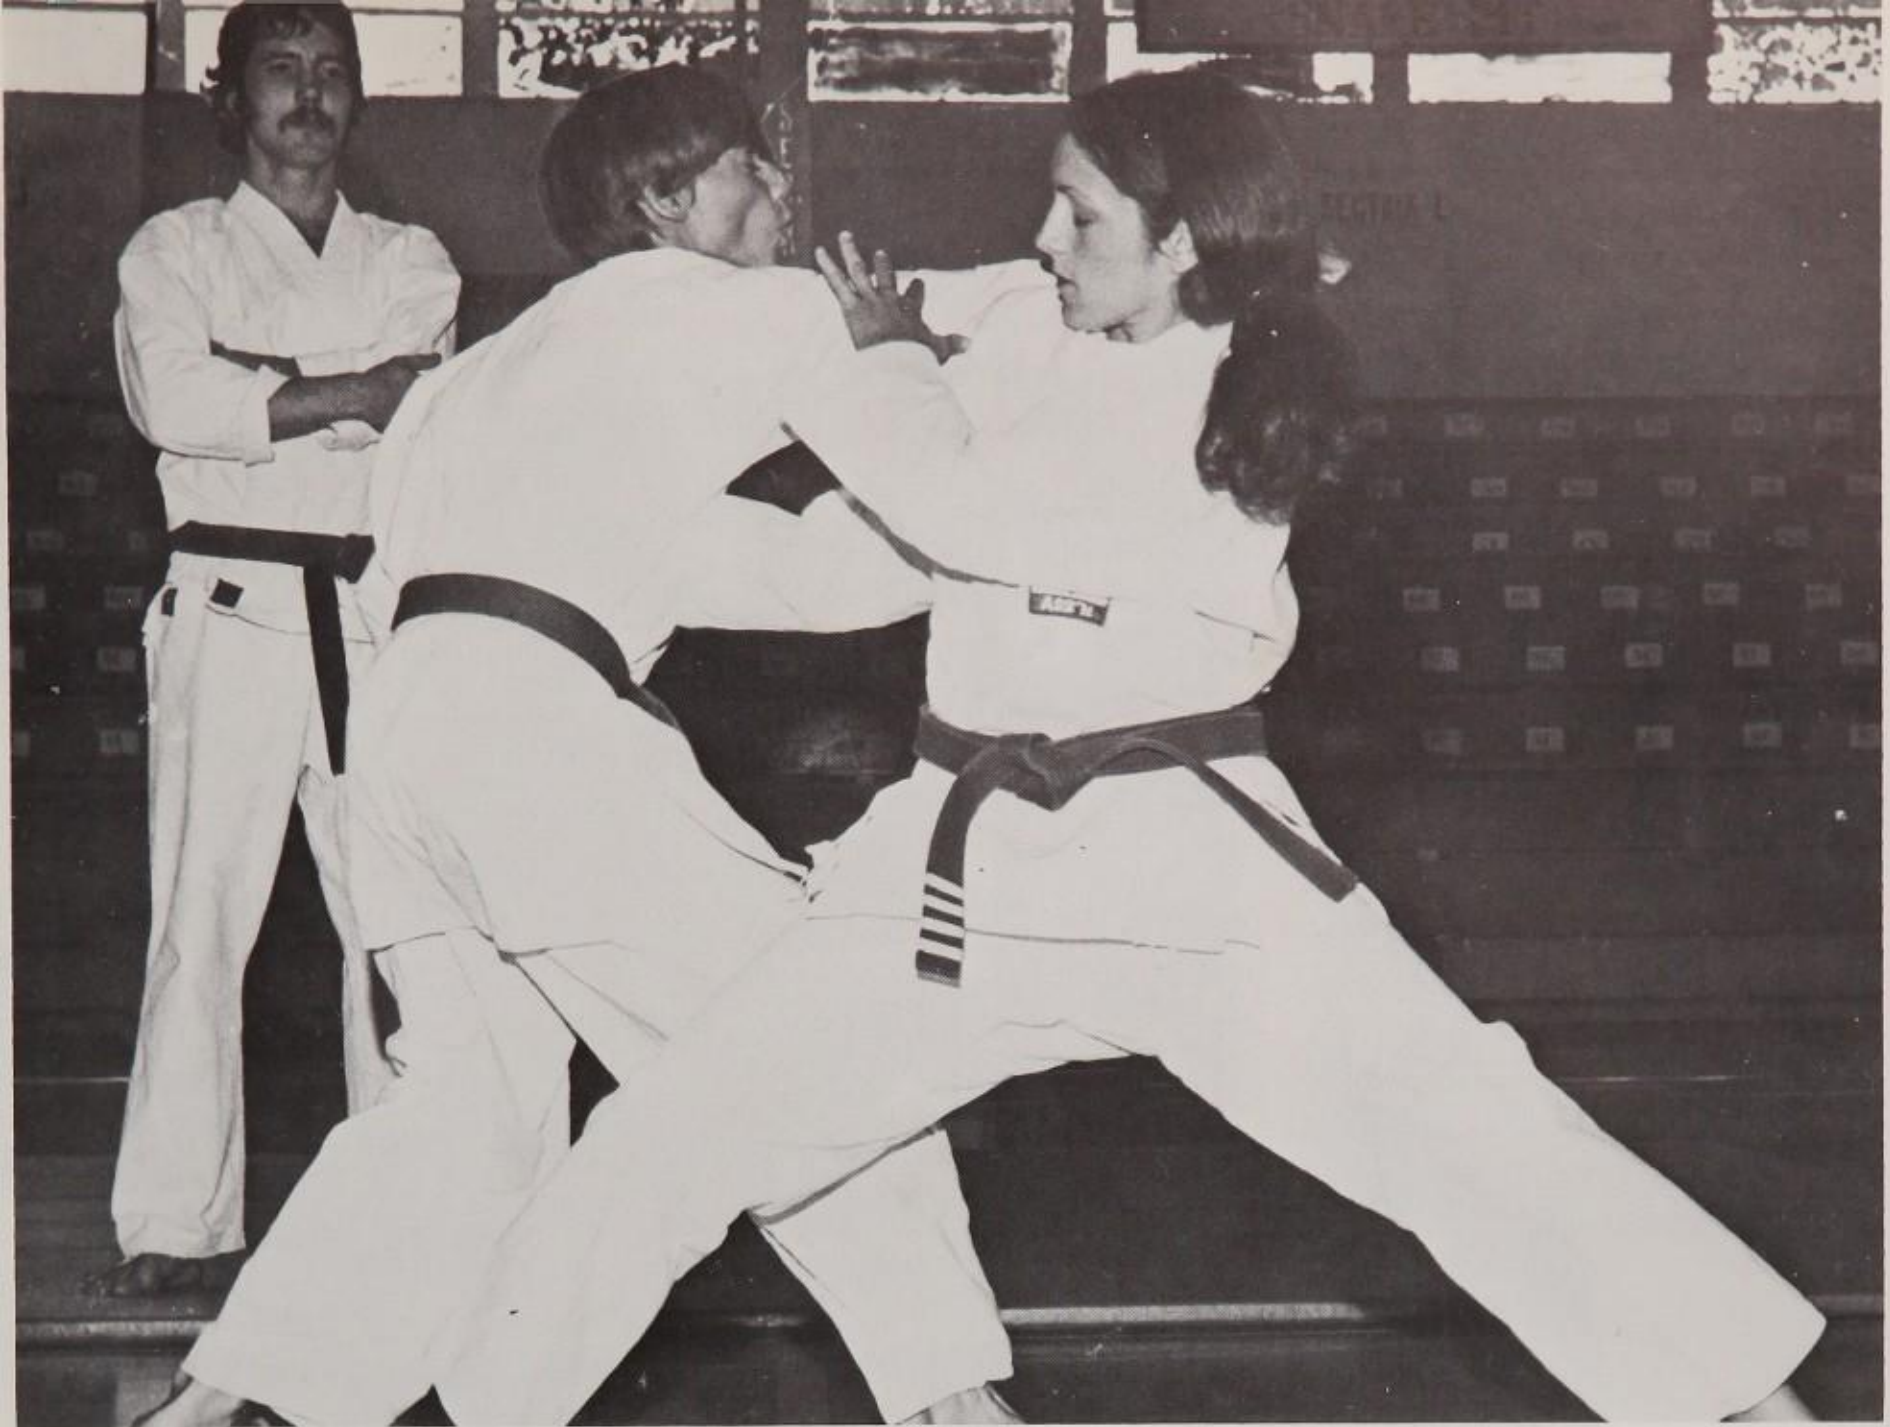

Preparing for stunt on trampoline, Denise Waggoner limbers up in Gym Class.

Student drivers tested teacher's nerves in the DRIVER EDUCATION DEPARTMENT as they practiced driving on the road. In the classroom students were taught basic car mechanics and the proper way to drive. On the driving range students learned basic driving skills by practicing various maneuvers such as figure-eight, parallel parking, and three-point turn. Florida state law requires that students under eighteen take driver education before receiving their driver's license. The course was required, by law, to consist of at least thirty hours of classroom instruction, twelve hours of driving on the range and three hours actual driving experience on the road.

On the range, Mr. Stephen Kessler shows various instruments to Patti Balance.

Looking out of wrong side, Tracie Love runs over cone while parallel parking.

Explaining project to Mr. Cloyd's fourth period drafting class is Tom Pritchett.

To provide better instructional opportunities, first and second year DRAFTING classes were split into separate classes. Copying basic designs from nature was one project completed by those enrolled in Drafting I. Advanced students were able to pursue their interest in Research and Development, a course new to Evans this year. Safety was stressed in the INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT as students learned the correct method of handling various types of tools and machinery. Wooden name signs and a scale model of the shop were among the many projects constructed in class.

Demonstrating use of a square, Mr. Julius Gordon assists James King and Bob Critchfield as they work on class project, constructing scale model of shop.

One addition to the HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT this year was the Modeling Class. During the last few weeks of the semester, the girls worked hard at preparing a fashion show held at Orlando Fashion Square. Many stores throughout the mall furnished the clothes worn. Food and nutrition students prepared several dishes such as spaghetti, stew, salad, and desserts. Fashion Design class created unique patterns and garments of their own. Child Development class instructed students in the care and handling of young children. The wide range of class offering proved that Home Ec. is more than merely cooking and sewing.

Home-Ec. students prepare food lab.

Concentrating hard on her plaid cape, Belinda Barnes pins down the facing.

Preparing business-minded students for a possible career in one of the many fields related to the mechanics of a business or office was the main challenge the BUSINESS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT undertook. The department, headed by Mr. Sid Talley, sought to bring out hidden talents or interests through a complete curriculum including Business Law, Bookkeeping, Typing and Shorthand. Preparing students for full-time employment was the main goal of the VOCATIONAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT. Students enrolled in vocational classes attended school part of the day and worked in the afternoon, thus gaining academic credit and on the job experience at the same time. Classes offered by this department appealed to many students because of the wide variety of offerings. Bookkeeping, Recordkeeping, Economics and Advertising drew business-oriented students. Health Occupations offered study in medical terms and human anatomy. Those students interested in horticulture found the Agriculture classes suited their needs.

Gardening, sewing and softball were just a few of many diverse FACULTY INTERESTS. Mrs. Lucile McDonald spent many weekend evenings playing bridge with friends, while Mr. Don Clark enjoyed outdoor sports including swimming and fishing. Several teachers worked to develop skill in fields of art and music. For example, Miss Dorothy Starbird created intricate handcrafted decorations, and Mrs. Beverly Noble enjoyed playing her guitar in quiet moments. Others including Mrs. Guilda Glickstien found pleasure in culinary efforts.

Puttering in kitchen at home, Mrs. Guilda Glickstien prepares her favorite dessert.

Taking time from busy schedule, Miss Sharon Bloodworth improves her garden by removing weeds from her mustard greens.

Displaying her musical talent, Mrs. Beverly Noble performs on an acoustic guitar.

Enjoying her hobby, Mrs. Dorthey Starbird assembles her dried flower arrangement onto a piece of drift wood with a glue gun.

Before starting match, Mr. Larry Hunt hands tennis balls to Mr. Tom Flagg.

With various small pieces of ship strewn across his table, Mr. Richard Foley puts together model of "Flying Cloud."

With camera attached to a tripod, Ms. Nancy Highsmith mounts telephoto lens.

Enjoying an afternoon fishing, Mr. Paul Banfield pulls hard to land a big one.

Despite heavy class loads and extra-curricular clubs, teachers still found spare time for recreation. A survey of FACULTY INTERESTS revealed a wide variety of activities. Mr. Tom Flagg and Mr. Larry Hunt often engaged in a friendly game of tennis on the school tennis courts. Building models of sailing vessels occupied much of Mr. Richard Foley's leisure, for he sometimes spent as much as one year completing each complexly designed ship. An amateur photographer, Ms. Nancy Highsmith entered many of her pictures in photography contests. When not busy counselling students at school, Mr. Paul Banfield enjoyed fishing in many of the area lakes.

Brushing on a coat of varnish, Mrs. Mary Bess Girvin refinishes a table.

With quilling needle, Mrs. Jackie Moore rolls strips of paper into designs.

Revening old college rivalry, Mr. John Chantos paddles Mr. Dale Brushwood.

Balancing out their busy days at school, teachers and administrators filled their free time with many unique FACULTY INTERESTS. Mrs. Mary Girvin refinished several pieces of furniture for her home over the summer holidays. Quilling, the art of rolling paper into designs, was the hobby of Mrs. Jackie Moore, Occupational Specialist. Mr. Sam Singhaus played first base on faculty baseball team which lost to varsity team. Mr. John Chantos and Mr. Dale Brushwood had an ongoing rivalry stemming from their college days.

Covering first base in sixth period baseball game is Mr. Sam Singhaus.

With the purpose of keeping the student body and faculty members informed on school and community activities, the TROJAN TRIBUNE staff produced the school newspaper. Work on the paper was accomplished during a regular fourth period class and after school work sessions. Numerous feature articles were established, one of the favorites being "Son of Hacked-off-Harry." Student opinion polls disclosed contemporary views of youth. Besides the twelve regular issues of the newspaper the staff compiled the special Senior and Memory editions at the end of the year. Participants in the production of the newspaper gained practical experience that could be used in publication careers.

With the aid of the cheerleaders S.G. also planned two separate Spirit Weeks, one before an Edgewater football game and the other prior to a basketball game against Winter Park. Hosting the area's Student Council Convention Evans' chapter developed and carried out the theme "New Horizons." As a service to the community, Student Government sponsored a rock-a-thon, with proceeds going to St. Jude's Children's Hospital, and a drive for donations for the Central Florida Blood Bank.

Working towards better racial relations is main objective of BI-RACIAL CLUB. To help raise funds for the end of the year banquet and gifts for Senior club members, Bi-Racial sold glass mugs with the Trojan emblem. During the year, Evans' STAGE BAND played at dances, banquets and presented various concerts. In March, the Stage Band, along with the SYMPHONIC BAND participated in the Evans' Unit Faculty Concert, in which bands from area elementary and junior high schools all played. In May, they presented a spring concert and in April performed in Orlando Presents at Lake Eola. These two bands also produced two records. The Symphonic Band and SOLO ENSEMBLE were a result of individual effort by band members.

Performing at football halftime is Trojan Marching Band.

Marching onto field, Drum Major Ernie Moran and Majorettes lead Trojan Band.

In a scene from Zorro the Spanish hero strikes enemy and rescues stolen money.

Tribunal Bill Hee, is tempted by slaves Jackie Woulfe and Carol Gobealoff.

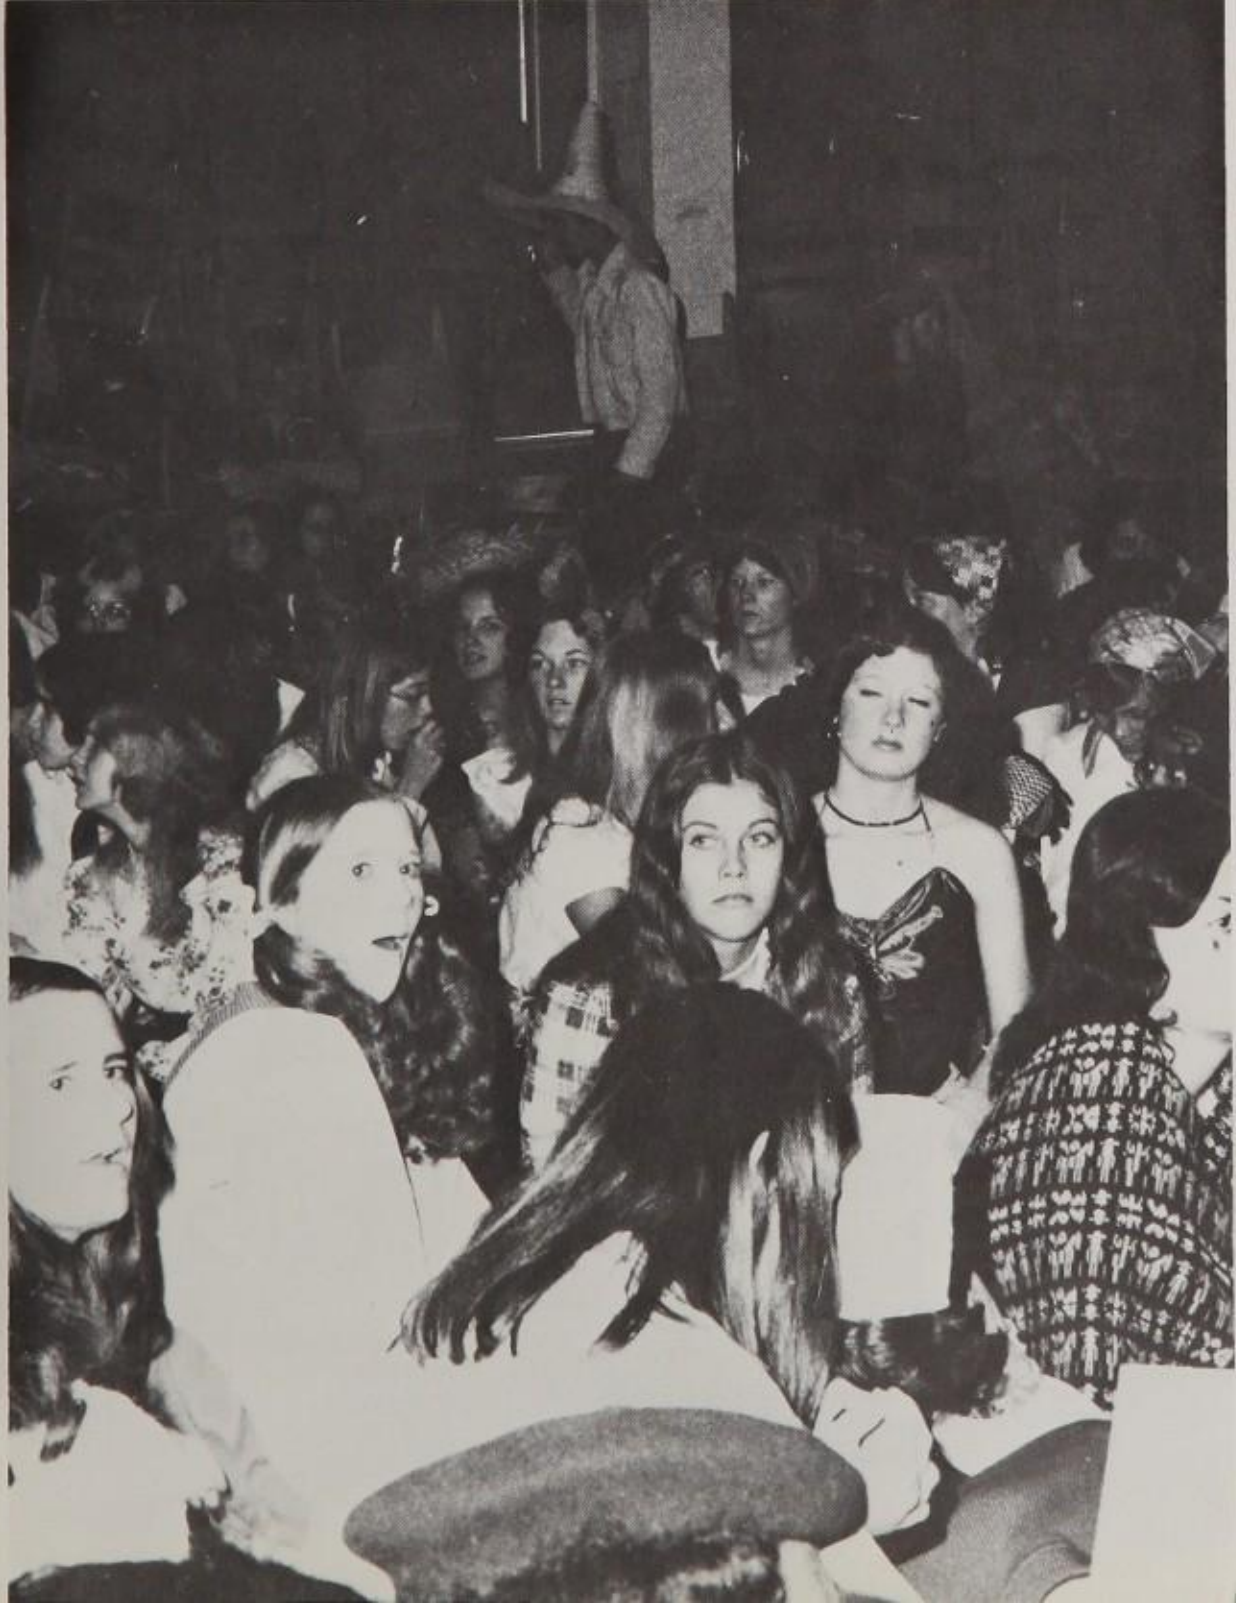

Festivity is added to the day's atmosphere by Spanish tunes of The Sombrero Band.

Dancing the traditional Polka to a popular folk song are German students Donna Gaddy, Laura Darrow, and Donna Baker.

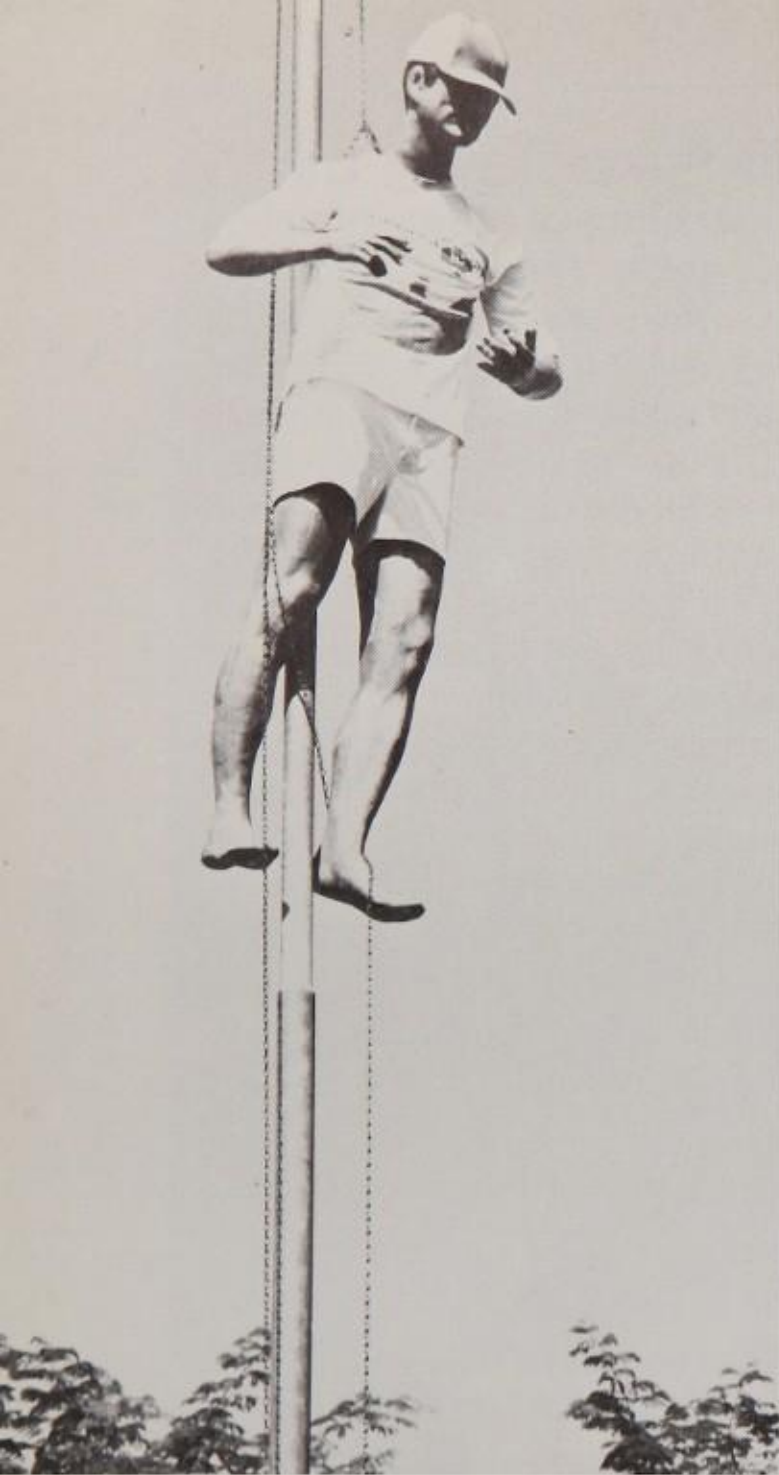

Various activities and dress of International Day bring many different expressions.

INTERNATIONAL DAY, a gathering of students taking Spanish, French, Latin, and German, was an all day affair consisting of food, customs, and good times. Taking place in C Building on December nineteenth, the occasion began with each language club, dressed in their native attire, presenting a program of dances, songs and skits. In the afternoon, lunch consisted of a wide variety of dishes from countries represented by the language classes. Afterwards the groups sang Christmas Carols in each of the four languages. To the enjoyment of all International Day was a great success.

Practicing her dance routine is French can-can girl, Beverly Ware.

Sign of doom is Eagle hung in effigy.

Silent Day traitor Debbie Livingston is branded by spirited Trojan Cathy Payne.

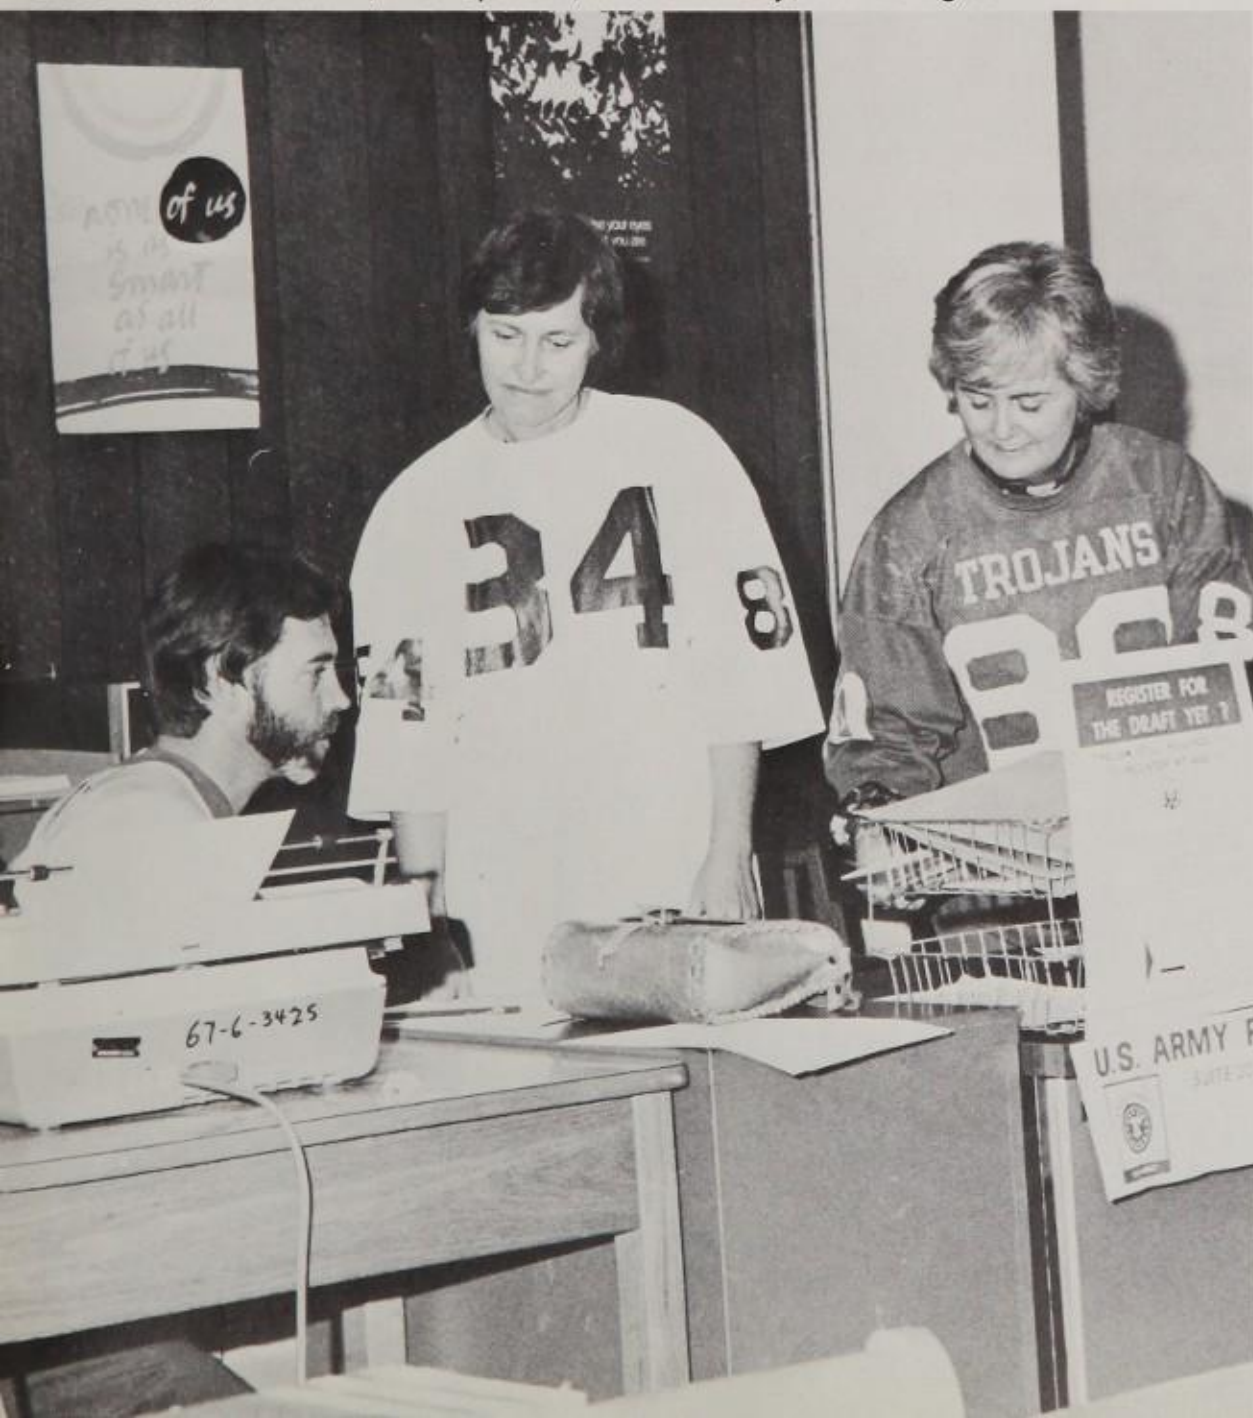

As reminders of Winter Park's upcoming death, signs were posted in hallways.

By displaying many different Signs Of Spirit, Evans' students reminisce days of the 50's while attending soccer game.

Even faculty displays spirit on Jersey Day as demonstrated by asst. principal, Mr. Brushwood; counselor, Mrs. Spooner; and secretary, Mrs. Bridges.

SIGNS OF SPIRIT were visible on Evans' campus during two spirit filled weeks. By joint effort, Trojan Pride and Student Government planned and staged the weeks having the first in November and the second in January. In preparation for the Edgewater football game, the November Spirit Week included days on which students dressed as farmers and Jersey Day, when faculty also participated. Other planned days were 50's Day and the traditional Green and White Day. In December Evans' students and faculty "mourned" the cremation of Winter Park by joining in Silent Day. Other highlights of that Spirit Week were Hat Day, Farmer Day, and Green and White Day.

On Farmer Day, Kim Kidder shows Evans is # by wearing country duds.

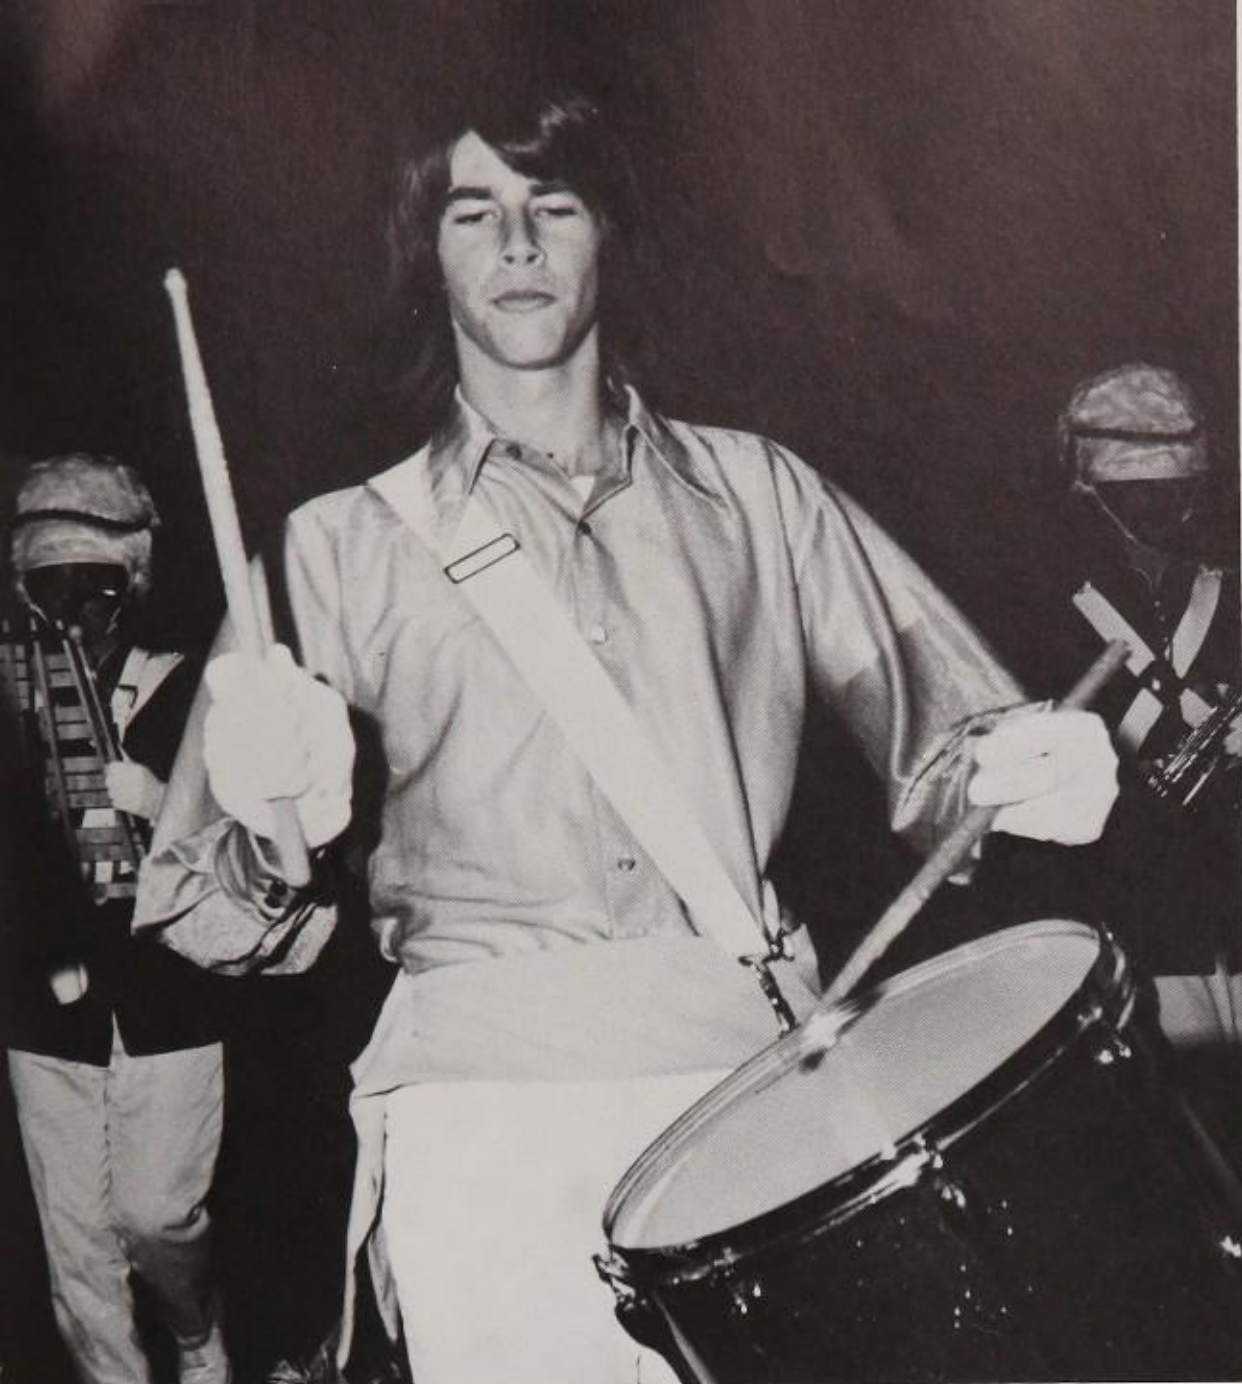

During Evans' Spirit Weeks in November and January, various members of the student body assisted in arousing enthusiasm and optimism for athletic competitions. SPIRIT LEADERS; such as Cheerleaders, Trojan Pride, and Pep Band stimulated the moods of the Evans students in numerous ways including performing skits at pep rallies, leading cheers, and supporting great expectations for victorious events.

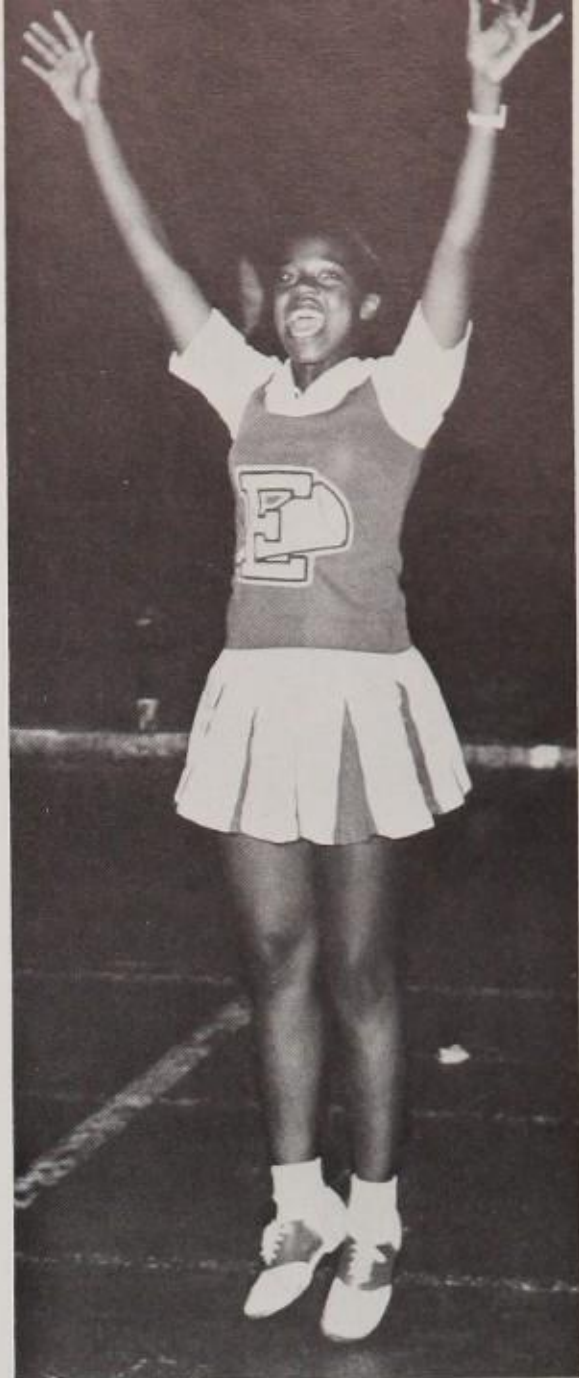

Preceding Edgewater game, Kim Jones boosts Evans' spirit in cheerleader skit.

Leaders of Spirit, Kim Kidder and "The Little People" promote spirit during lunch.

Drummer Mark Stafne displays expertise of Trojan Marching Band at halftime show.

Leading Trojan spirit is Beverly Ware.

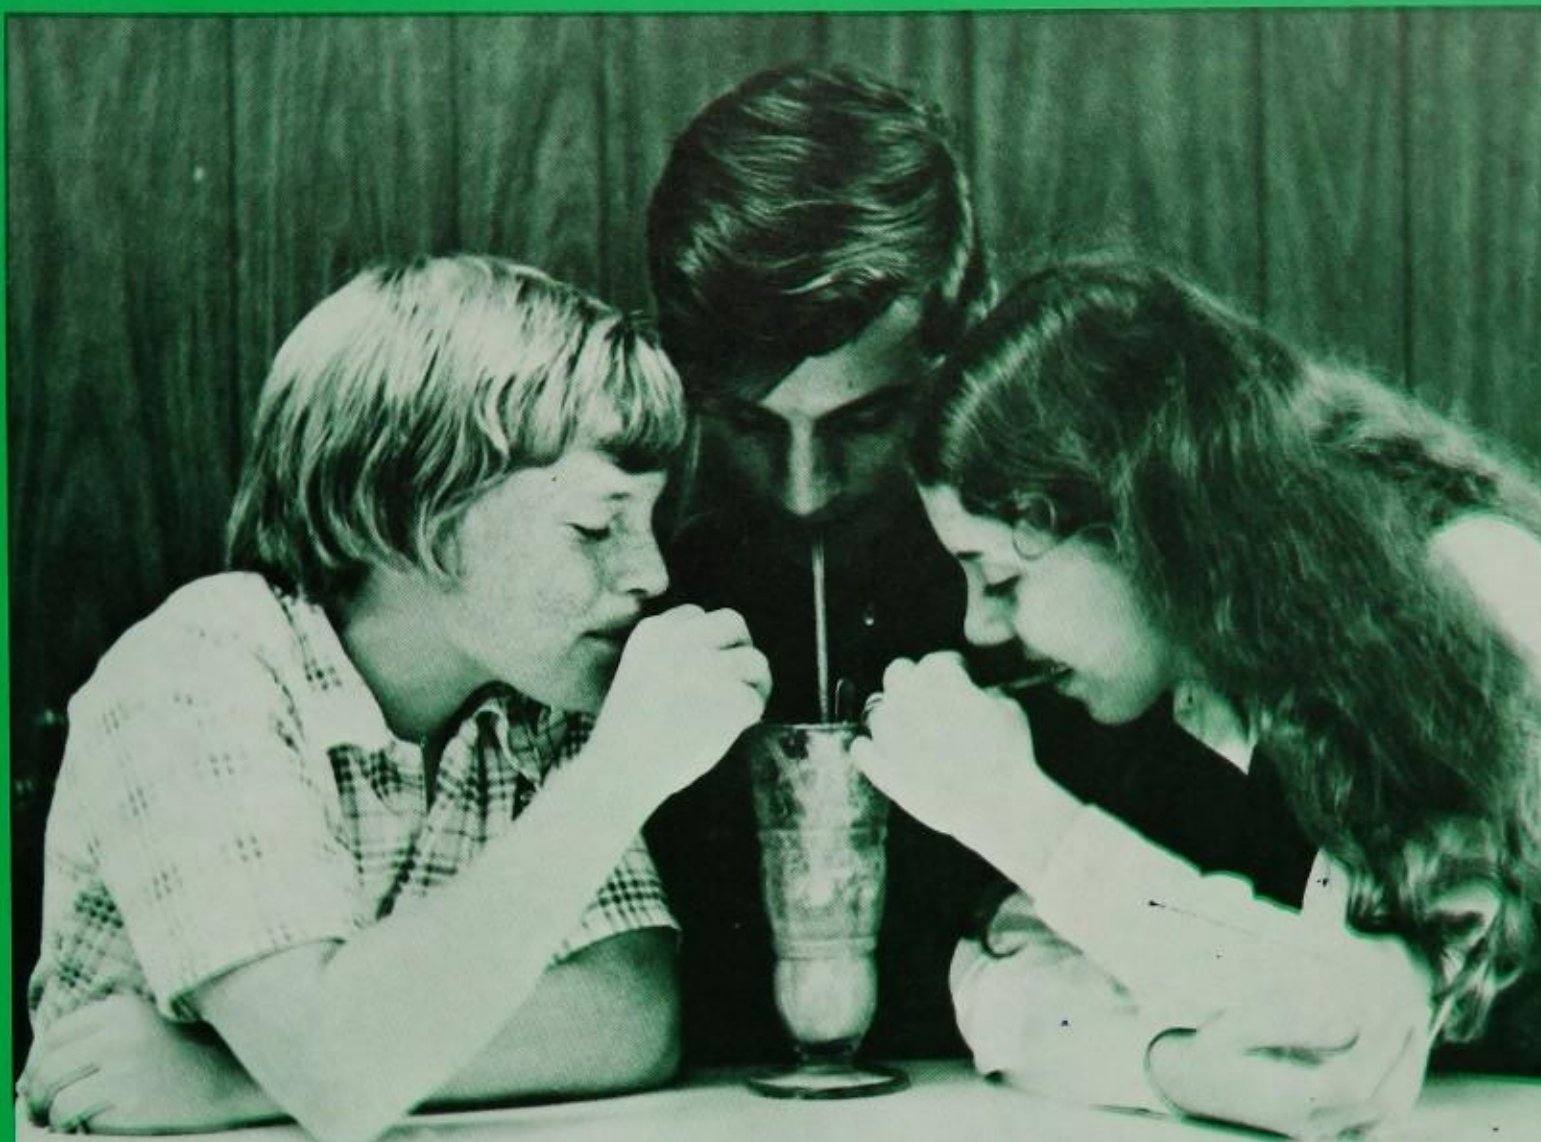

Accompanied by pep band, cheerleaders parade throughout campus and interrupt classes to lead cheers and promote spirit.

Work began early for SENIOR CLASS with the numbering of the Senior Parking lot during the summer. In October the Seniors were subjected to the annual Twelfth Grade Test at Exhibition Hall. The formation of Sentra, a new club, visited such places as Busch Gardens, Skate City, and also the Bahamas upon The S.S. Emerald Seas. Senior Miss contestants were chosen on the basis of personality, school spirit, and participation in extra-curricular activities. Afterwards in the school library, a reception for the contestants was sponsored by the Class. Grad Night, at Walt Disney World, was held in May. The year came to an end when Graduation was held at the Orlando Municipal Auditorium.

Mr. Don Clark, Sponsor

Led by a new staff of officers and sponsor, the JUNIOR CLASS concentrated on raising money for the Junior-Senior Prom. For the first time in Maynard Evans' history, the spring ball was planned to be at Walt Disney World. Because of the expense of WDW's Ballroom of the America's, the Junior Class focused their efforts on a single candy sale. Additional methods of raising money were later employed to supplement their treasury.

Participants competing in this year's SOPHOMORE CLASS election, presented speeches of their plans for the coming year to an assembly of class members. After views were given, students voted on the most qualified candidates. Having the largest tenth grade class in the history of Evans, the officers anticipated a great financial need. Plans for raising funds were first on the agenda. Selling Charm Pops, sponsoring the Meanest Teacher and Club Day were a few of the sophomore class activities, each receiving a great response from the student body.
